EXPERIENCE

PROEDUCA

Lead Business Analyst

Pozuelo de Alarcón, Madrid (Spain)

09/2021-Present

- Built and led a team of 5 analysts delivering end-to-end analytics across the full customer lifecycle — acquisition, conversion, reactivation, profitability and strategy — embedding data-driven decision-making as a core business practice across all commercial functions.
- Designed, built and implemented an automated funnel alert system prioritized by economic impact — covering acquisition, call center, pricing and reactivation — adopted company-wide as a bi-weekly action-planning ritual across all business teams.
- Developed, from scratch, a data-driven customer reactivation intelligence model with multi-campaign attribution, driving reactivation to represent +40% of total sales revenue.
- Quantified operational and commercial levers of business performance, including customer wait-time effects on conversion and workforce scheduling efficiency under distributed service delivery models, increasing conversion rate ~20%.

LASTMINUTE.COM

Flights Category Manager (Spain, Portugal and Latam)

Madrid (Spain) / Chiasso (Switzerland)

06/2012-09/2021

- Progressed from operational control and pricing roles into full commercial ownership of the Flights category across Spain, Portugal, and LATAM, assuming P&L responsibility and team leadership of 3 analysts within a highly competitive, low-margin travel environment.
- Directed multi-channel monetization strategy across direct and metasearch channels, optimizing acquisition economics, pricing dynamics, and supply configuration across GDS and low-cost providers.
- Led end-to-end competitive intelligence initiatives, simulating customer journeys across international competitors to identify monetization gaps and share strategic insights across regional teams.
- Strengthened the analytical and content management capabilities of the category, enhancing performance monitoring frameworks and supporting cross-market adoption of data-informed commercial practices.
